In this poster we will: 1. identify the causes of the increase in Street Children and all the other factors that makes them much more prone to the HIV infections. 2: identify the advantages of prevention over treatment of AIDS Life-line Micro-Credit Strategy. 3: identify the critical challenge to child health through the ideas of Sexuality and good Sexual health in child birth and development research in the rural setting of the network. The interventions were targeted at children most especially street ones who - through poverty, broken homes, peer pressure, unfavorable conditions, change of environment etc - were misled into this deadly disease. The strategies adopted enable the partners to move beyond with information, education and communication tool to create sensitization and empowerment, through community involvement and active participation, economic groupings alleviated the negative effect created.
