Lecturer in Mechanical / Manufacturing Engineering

(Temporary Contract to 30th September 2016)

The School of Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering, Dublin City University seeks to appoint a highly qualified Lecturer in Mechanical and Manufacturing Engineering. The appointment will be made on a fixed term contract basis until 30th September 2016.

Candidates must hold an honours primary degree in Mechanical and/or Manufacturing Engineering, and should ideally hold a PhD in a relevant area awarded by a recognised university. Candidates must have demonstrated their commitment to excellence in teaching at university level and in research, as evidenced by, for example, record of publications, supervision of research degree students and success in attracting research funds. Candidates’ teaching and/or research interests should be in one or more of the following areas:

- Manufacturing Automation & Control
- Environmental/Sustainable Engineering
- Solid Mechanics/Advanced Materials
- Quality Engineering/Assurance
- Project & Operations Management

The person appointed to this position will be expected to contribute to the continuing development of the School, Faculty and University. This post is integral to many of the programmes delivered within the School and the successful candidate may be expected to contribute to teaching on a wide range of these programmes. A significant contribution to the research agenda within the School would also be expected, along with any administration duties required by the School.
