Dublin City University

Policy for Garda Vetting of Students

First Drafted 2011
Revised 2015
Policy for Garda Vetting of Students

Background

DCU offers a number of educational programmes that require students to undertake placements, with external agencies, which will bring them into contact with the public and in which they will assume positions of trust. To ensure the protection of the public, and justify public trust of confidence, the University is committed to ensuring that only suitable candidates are allowed to undertake these programmes.

DCU uses the Garda Central Vetting Unit service to assess the suitability of such applicants and may also require applicants to provide an Enhanced Disclosure by the completion of an affidavit.

For DCU students undertaking programmes in Nursing, the partner hospitals/Health Service Executive (HSE) completes the Garda Vetting process. These students must satisfy the requirements of the HSE for Garda Vetting before they can fully complete their registration as DCU students.

For other relevant programmes, DCU requires students to be Garda Vetted before they fully complete their registration as a student of the University.

Students who accept places in programmes which require Garda Vetting will be sent the necessary forms by DCU. Your rights in relation to this are available on the website of the Garda Síochána (Irish Police Force) www.garda.ie
Purpose
The purpose of this document is to outline the policies and responsibilities relating to the vetting of students for participation in environments where they will have unsupervised access to children and/or vulnerable adults at locations within and outside the University, as part of approved academic programmes. This document complements the University’s Child Protection policy and procedures. http://www4.dcu.ie/policies/index.shtml There is a separate Garda Vetting Policy for staff which is available at http://www4.dcu.ie/policies/index.shtml

Scope
This policy applies to students who will have unsupervised access to children and/or vulnerable adults as part of their University programme.

Policy Statement

In pursuit of its mission in the field of education and humanities, Dublin City University is committed to creating a community of learning which recognises the education and wellbeing of children as paramount. In seeking to uphold the highest standards in this regard, and in order to ensure the protection and confidence of the public, the University is committed to ensuring that only suitable candidates are allowed to participate in environments where they will have unsupervised access to children and/or vulnerable adults as part of their University programmes. Garda Vetting is one mechanism which the University uses to assist it in assessing the suitability of candidates for academic programmes. In some cases, the University may also require applicants to provide an enhanced disclosure by the completion of an affidavit or other such proof.

General principles

- The University is committed to ensuring that only suitable candidates participate in components of academic programmes where students may have unsupervised access to children or vulnerable adults and reserves the right, having due regard for natural justice and fair procedures to conduct a vetting procedure on any such student at any time or times during the student’s period in University.
- Information relating to requirements for Garda vetting will be provided in a clear, consistent and timely manner to students.
- Each student is responsible for informing himself/herself of the need for Garda vetting to ensure suitability for specific programmes prior to embarking on specific components of programmes and of the requirements under this policy.
• The student must proactively disclose any relevant information relating to the process of Garda vetting to the University. This includes information relating to periods of residence outside the Republic of Ireland.
• Normally, a student may not participate in environments with unsupervised access to children or vulnerable adults until approval is obtained from the University. Such approval from the University may not necessarily guarantee a placement.
• Each student is responsible for providing information in a timely manner to the University of his/her suitability for specific academic programmes as required to complete the current Garda vetting application process.
• Students aged under 18 are required to have written permission from a parent/guardian before vetting procedures can be implemented.
• Costs incurred by the student in complying with this policy are borne by the student.
• Information collected as part of this vetting process will be treated as sensitive and strictly confidential, on a need to know basis, but may be released to interested parties as deemed necessary by the University.
• Acceptance of an offer of a programme and/or registration as a student of the University is deemed to be agreement with participation in this policy.
• Failure to comply with University requirements in relation to this policy may make completion of the programme impossible and result in students being unable to obtain an award. Furthermore in courses where school placement is a requirement, confirmation of a student’s registration is normally subject to Garda vetting procedures.

Appendix 2:

Factors to be considered by the University Vetting Committee in making its determinations:

1. The nature of the offence
2. The seriousness of the offence
3. The sentence imposed
4. In the case of more than one offence whether the offences disclose a pattern of recidivism or repeat offending
5. The age and circumstances of the applicant at the time of the offence
6. The time elapsed since the offence(s)
7. The manner in which the applicant dealt with the proceedings in relation to the offence and in particular whether the applicant pleaded guilty and at what point in the proceedings
8. Whether the offence involved a serious breach of trust
9. Whether the offence is one which by its nature gives rise to specific concerns in relation to contact with children or young people generally
10. The extent to which the applicant has rehabilitated himself or herself since the commission of the offence
11. Whether the applicant originally disclosed the conviction on the Garda vetting form
12. Disclosure of Criminal Convictions

All applicants who have been convicted of a criminal offence must disclose this to DCU.

Under Section 26 of the Sex Offenders Act 2001 it is an offence for a convicted sex offender to apply for a position, to enter into a contract of employment or to continue to work or study in an area either knowing, or if they ought reasonably to have known, that a necessary and regular part of that work/placement involves unsupervised access to, or contact with children, without informing their employer of their conviction.

All prospective applicants or registered students must inform DCU of any such conviction at the earliest possible opportunity. If during the course of the application/registration process it transpires that an applicant has a criminal conviction (either by way of Garda Vetting or by applicant disclosure) full details of the conviction will be sought and the Garda Vetting process will commence.

The provision of false, inaccurate or misleading information will disqualify applicants from the selection process and for existing students may result in disciplinary action (up to and including withdrawal of registration and exit from their programme)

13. The University Vetting Committee shall take particular note of offences of a sexual, violent, dishonest or drug-related nature.
